

Olga Udovichenko

Associate Professor, Finance and Accounting
Managing Director, Center for Digital Competences
Development, Gazprombank
Project Director, Russian Academy of National Economy

Education: M.Sc. in Radiophysics, Leningrad Politechnical Institute (1984); Ph.D in Economics, St. Petersburg State University (2005); EMBA, Fuqua Business School, Duke University, USA (2010).

Short-term internships: AI & ML at MIT, Case method at Harvard Business School, Haas School of Business, (UC Berkeley), ITP (Bocconi), LSE and many others

Research and teaching interests: Managerial Accounting for Decision making, Cost Accounting; Internal Auditing and Control,

Academic experience: Associate Professor at Graduate School of Management Saint-Petersburg State University; Visiting faculty at Executive MBA programs of Moscow school of management "Skolkovo" and Stockholm School of Economics in St. Petersburg.

Multiple education projects for the companies: Sberbank, VTB, Rosneft, Russian Railways, Airport "Pulkovo", "Klimov", Eurosib, Marvel, Ilim Timber, "Petrovich"

Member of the Fuqua School of Business Regional Advisory Board (Russia and CIS) and two accreditation committees of EFMD (European Fund of Management Development)

Business experience: Managing Director, Center for Digital Competences Development, Gazprombank (current), Vice Dean for Programs Development, Head of Risk Management School at Sberbank Corporate University (2014-2017), CEO & Partner at auditing company Proficon (1995-2013), multiple consulting projects.

Olga has a Certificate of honor of the Ministry for education and science of Russian Federation.